

Bertrand Russel

Bertrand Russell was born in the United Kingdom and is still based there now. Ben and Peter are Bertrand Russell's sons. Ben was unlucky enough to get cancer but Peter is the complete opposite and made it in to the All Blacks a few weeks ago.

He is a philosopher that means that his job is to think of strange things for example... How do you know that you're not a brain in a vat and an evil scientist is telling your brain to think that you are a human being? Bertrand Russell weighs about 75 kgs and is very slim. Mr. Russell has white wirey hair and he has hazel eyes. His face is very pale and wrinkly. The sound of his voice is very low. He really enjoys watching TV and smoking. He always gets grumpy watching stupid TV programs for some reason. Nothing makes him laugh or even think of it. Nothing makes him sad and Bertrand is afraid of absolutely nothing. His personality is as mean as the neighbor-hood bully but is as lonely as a wolf right now. At the moment he is smoking a pipe.

Right now he is thinking that he's going to take his beloved wife to the movies tomorrow". Why ?because he wants to.
