AUTHOR VISIT – GILLIAN CANDLER

On Tuesday we were lucky to have award-winning children's author Gillian Candler finally visit our school for Book Week after the School Hall became available. The whole school took part in her presentation which was provided free by Read NZ Te Pou Muramura Writers in Schools Programme.

Gillian is a former teacher and publisher. Her non-fiction books for children explore different environments, from the garden to the seashore and native bush. These books share what she has learned and what has intrigued her as she has explored the bush and the beach.

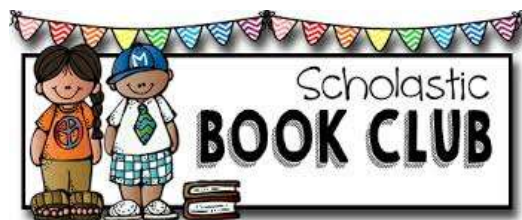

Listening to Gillian talk, her passion for trying to understand and protect the unique wildlife and wild places of Aotearoa shines through.

The children were also keen to hear about her latest book, Mia & Leo Go Wild, which is her start into fiction writing. The children were intrigued by her tales and adventures from which she has gathered her writing ideas. She also discussed her writing journey and shared lots of useful tips.

Thanks Gillian and Read NZ we thoroughly enjoyed having you. Emma Crossley - Librarian

Author Visit

On Tuesday we had Gillian Candler visit our school. She showed us the process of making books, told us why she became an author and where she got her inspiration from. We all enjoyed the owl calls. Thank you so much Emma, for organising this special visit, and a special thanks to Gillian Candler for visiting our school. By Ava Lowe - Ruma Kiwi

No Netball due to King's Birthday Weekend.

The 2024 theme for Samoan Language Week is 'Tautua i le alofa, manuia le lumana'i – Serve in love for a blessed future'. This theme derives from the overarching Language Week Series theme for 2024, 'Sustainability'.

What does the phrase 'Tautua i le alofa' mean? The concept of tautua focuses on the phrase – “Serve in love”. Love is the driving force of service. No matter what service looks like or who is doing it, service is accomplished through the power of love.

This year's theme aims to clearly express the significance of service that is founded on love. Tautua can only be achieved through consistent development. Similarly, the maintenance of language is also achieved through service - through our values of love, respect, and especially in the vā fealoa'i (respectful relationships) that protect Samoan people.

Service begins in the family and continues in schools, villages, churches, in our communities and countries. Service is a practice that is not exclusive to certain people or ages, but rather, a process that begins at childhood and continues into adulthood. Our ongoing mission is the collective preservation of identity for our children into the future.
